DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102(e) that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

2. The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kawabe et al. (US 6,377,613), hereinafter referred to as Kawabe.

Regarding claim 19, Kawabe discloses a communication apparatus for code division multiple accessing mobile communications system. Referring to figure 10, a receiver that is used in a base station has a plurality of mobile stations connectable to the base station, see column 7-line 56 to column 8-line 3, in which the base station receives spread signals which are inherently and respectively transmitted over a plurality of channels. Each channel corresponds to a desreader, and each should carry different data corresponding to each respective mobile.

a plurality of despread demodulators, which are respectively arranged for the plurality of channels for demodulating a spread signal transmitted over a corresponding channel by desreading the spread signal with a corresponding spread code (a plurality of desreader 1007s each demodulates a received signal from a mobile station using the code generator 1010 to generate the assigned spreading code over a corresponding channel associated with the mobile); and instructing means (a plurality of code generators 1004 (1-2), a matched filter 1005, and a peak detector 1006-fig. 10) for instructing a phase (since each block function in fig. 10 is the same as the corresponding one in fig. 1, therefore, the code generator 112 (1010) is inherently instructed to output a spreading code with a phase adjusted to each transmitted timing over each desreader, see column 5, lines 16-38) of each spread code used for spreading each of the spread signals transmitted over the plurality of channels, wherein said instructing means (the plurality of code generators 1004 (1-2), a matched filter 1005, and a peak detector 1006-fig. 10) is shared by the plurality of despread demodulators (shared by the plurality of despreaders 1007s).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-18 are allowed.

Reason for Allowance

5. Regarding claims 1-18, the prior arts fail to teach or suggest a receiving device for receiving spread signals which are respectively transmitted over a plurality of channels, each of the plurality of channels carrying different data, in a CDMA communication, the receiving device comprises a path detector which is used in time-division manner so as to generate timing signals for the plurality of channels, for generating a timing signal corresponding to each of the plurality of channels according to a correlation between an input signal including the spread signals which are respectively transmitted over the plurality of channels and a spread code corresponding to each of the plurality of channels, in combination with other limitations as specified in the independent claims 1, 4, 5, 6, 13, and 18.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 19 has been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTHS shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136 (a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
